

Embark a New Beginning

“It is the road you take that decides your destiny and not your destiny that decides the road you take.”

The big question is that are you satisfied with who you are? Are you doing what you are capable of doing? Do you get excited about what you are going to do when you get up in the morning? Have you stopped asking yourself these questions? If yes, it is high time you ask these uncomfortable questions that reflect the truth about your life. More often than not we have the ability to achieve much greater things, but we get caught in the mediocre things in life and waste our potential. When there is nothing higher to be achieved all energies are simply scattered in the ordinary and mundane pursuits.

Are you living with many unexplored avenues waiting to be unleashed? Each one of us has immense ability. But most of us fail to use it. Why?

1. There is no definite purpose of your life.
2. Underestimating yourself.
3. Too busy to think about anything, living life mechanically.
4. You are in a comfort zone; embracing mediocrity.
5. The fear of failure, what if I fail?
6. Inability to take initiative and take charge of your life. You are living life reactively.
7. Burden of expectations. Boggled down with other people's approval and expectations.
8. Who cares? I am okay and love status quo.
9. Ignore the voice within, which is continuously telling you that something is wrong.
10. Compromise at each step and live a life of convenience. Don't dare to challenge yourself.

Ask yourself, what difference am I making in the lives of others? If the answer is not much, then you really aren't tapping your abundant resources. What if your life ended today? Would you be happy and satisfied with what you have achieved? Are you following your passion and the things you love? You must find what you love and gives you fulfillment. Don't be afraid to make a new beginning. Go deep within, be silent and explore the possibilities. There is tremendous reservoir of energy waiting to be unleashed within you. As you go deeper and deeper the energy uncoils and you will begin to add meaning to your life.

You are special, because you have the freedom to choose who you want to be. Don't live a life where your potential is entrapped and you are dying every moment. Come out of this bewilderment, discover your true self and express it to the world. You will never be satisfied with anything less than the highest you can attain. Life is not a thing that will go on forever. Somewhere you have to start from where you are to where you want to be. You are a beacon of strength, power and all the riches in the world. You will be a stranger unknown to the world until you realize that you are here for a reason. You must explore and live it.
